Lead Faculty: Swathi Baskaran

Duration of course: Four weeks (complete at your own pace)

Sharing Baha'u'llah's Birthday with Children is designed to help parents, teachers, and other adults share Baha'u'llah's birthday with children in ways that will help children understand the significance of Baha'u'llah's birth and instill in their minds and hearts the greatness of the day. It will also help children celebrate this very special birthday in a fun and uplifting way. The course will focus on the birth of Baha'u'llah, the childhood and youth of Baha'u'llah, and the early adulthood of Baha'u'llah. It will include stories from the history of the Baha'i Faith, service-project ideas, activities, and songs to help children understand the underlying spirit of the special two hundredth anniversary of Baha'u'llah's birth.

Duration of course: Seven weeks (October 1 - November 17, 2017)

The Book of Revelation (Apocalypse) holds a unique position as the only prophetic book in the Christian New Testament. The prophetic vision opens with a statement of its authority, a vision to John of Patmos from God transmitted by means of Jesus Christ and an angel. Its rich symbolism has been the object of study by Christians, both scholarly and popular, giving rise to many views of the future and the end times. Its language and symbolism owe much to the prophets of the Hebrew Bible (Old Testament) and likewise shares motifs with later revelation in the Holy Qur'an and the Baha'i writings. In Exploring the Book of Revelation we will explore the contents of this fascinating sacred vision in the context of progressive revelation, highlighting its links to both former and later sacred texts. The Baha'i Faith offers new interpretations of some of the passages in the Book of Revelation, and individual Baha'i scholars infer other interpretations. In this course we will undertake a careful reading of the contents of this sacred text to understand its historical nature, emphasizing those passages for which authoritative interpretations are given by Baha'u'llah and 'Abdu'l-Baha.

Feast Consultation

Lead Faculty: Trip Barthel

Faculty: Shamil Fattakhov

Duration of course: Seven weeks (October 7 - November 17, 2017)

Consultation at Bahá'í Feasts should be a force of attraction, love, and unity, stimulating individuals and the community to higher levels of action. In this Feast Consultation workshop, we will begin with a study of the underlying principles of consultation and will focus on simple, effective facilitation skills that can be used to make consultation at Bahá'í Feasts more engaging and participatory. We will use written material and videos to demonstrate and discuss the skills of consultation for both the chair and the community in six key areas: (1) setting guidelines that promote full participation and address multiple learning styles; (2) creating an efficient, flexible agenda; (3) asking better questions to stimulate thinking; (4) generating new and different ideas; (5) spectrums of interest with full participation; and (6) reflection to improve consultation. The goal is to have participants end the course with an understanding of the underlying principles of consultation and the ability to use a broader set of facilitation tools, thus promoting more vibrant Feasts that lead to increased attendance, higher levels of participation, and enhanced social bonding.

Duration of course: Seven weeks (October 10 - November 27, 2017)

In The Summons of the Lord of Hosts course we will explore the series of letters that Baha'u'llah sent to kings and rulers of the world between 1866 and 1870. Written after He declared His mission to His followers, the letters, according to the Universal House of Justice, "summoned the monarchs of East and West collectively, and some among them individually, to recognize the Day of God and to acknowledge the One promised in the scriptures of the religions professed by the recipients of His summons." Baha'u'llah Himself says that "Never since the beginning of the world hath the Message been so openly proclaimed." "As Baha'u'llah's influence penetrates ever more deeply the life of the larger society throughout the world," the Universal House of Justice notes, "it seems especially appropriate" that the full texts of Baha'u'llah's important letters sounding the themes of His revelation be studied by "a broad readership." For texts we will use The Summons of the Lord of Hosts and a compilation about the tablets that provides background information.

A covenant in the spiritual sense is a sacred binding agreement between God or His representative, on the one hand, and His people, on the other. In The Covenants of the Baha'i Faith course we will explore the Baha'i community as a covenantal people through study of a number of Covenants: first, the Primordial Covenant God made with humanity before creation; second, the Greater Covenant through which God promises to supply humanity with guidance periodically through His Manifestations; and, third, the specific Covenants of Baha'u'llah and 'Abdu'l-Baha (sometimes called the Lesser Covenant). These specific Covenants comprise numerous texts by Baha'u'llah referring to the station and appointment of His eldest son 'Abdu'l-Baha as Head of the Faith and the Will and Testament of 'Abdu'l-Baha and related Tablets that establish as His successors the twin institutions of the Guardianship and the Universal House of Justice. The course aims to improve your basic knowledge of these Covenants, assist you to understand them in the context of the Baha'i revelation, and draw you personally and spiritually closer to their provisions.

Baha'u'llah states that "All men have been created to carry forward an ever-advancing civilization." Based on the book Eleven, this course investigates issues and principles involved for individuals, communities, and institutions in contributing to a sustainable civilization with 11 billion people, the UN population projection for 2100. Given that our civilization is already unsustainable, what changes are needed to ensure that humanity can advance with an additional 4 billion people? Key to this process will be an ethical revolution that will reinforce efforts to reduce humanity's ecological footprint by seeding a new global culture. Sustaining 11 Billion People: Challenges for an Ever-Advancing Civilization shows how the principles and plans of the Baha'i Faith directly address these fundamental concerns.

In The Secret of Divine Civilization we will study 'Abdu'l-Baha's first extensive description of Baha'i social teachings. Elaborating on principles that Baha'u'llah enunciated in His tablets to the kings and leaders of the world, the treatise describes the true nature of civilization and provides a blueprint for the "future reorganization of the world." To develop the theme of universal peace, honest government, and religion as the true bases of world order, 'Abdu'l-Baha redefines the Islamic tradition that a learned person "must guard himself, defend his faith, oppose his passions and obey the commandments of his Lord." Leaders, in particular, are called to a new standard of honesty and trustworthiness. We will thus look at the complementary processes of personal transformation and social development, leading to a reorganization of the world. We will also examine the book as an early example of public discourse and consider how we can use it to improve our own efforts in public discourse.

application in personal development, family life, and the workplace; in Baha'i communities; and in engaging with public discourses. Topics addressed include the nature of human identity; equality in the family and society; gender roles in governance and peace-building; gender-based violence; men and boys as partners in achieving equality; and the role of the media in perpetuating or challenging gender inequality. We will draw on the Baha'i writings, as well as on analysis and commentary from a variety of sources, and review case studies of successful initiatives and communities working toward gender equality in the private and public spheres.

When war broke out in the Middle East in 2003, the Universal House of Justice noted the "animating effect of the spirit of unrest pervading the planet," the unfolding of the Lesser Peace, and the implications for the "progress" of the Baha'i community and the "evolution of an increasingly global society in the throes of a turbulent transition." It also noted the "feelings of grievance and outrage" of "people across the globe," their "sorrows, fears and perplexities," "anxieties," and anger, all adding to the "chaos and confusion." For the Baha'is, however, the House of Justice said that "they have only to recall the vision and principles offered by the Faith if they are to respond effectively to the challenges posed by the spread of distress and dismay." In Responding Effectively to Global Challenges, we will "strive to understand more deeply the Teachings that are relevant" to global unrest by reviewing three letters by Shoghi Effendi published in The World Order of Baha'u'llah: "The Goal of a New World Order," "America and the Most Great Peace," and "The Unfoldment of a World Civilization." Our goal is to understand more clearly the chaos in the world and the bright future ahead and to prepare ourselves to participate in meaningful conversations.

Gifts of the Spirit: The Spiritual Practice

In The Life and Ministry of Shoghi Effendi we will look briefly at the unique position held by Shoghi Effendi, his childhood and youth (1897-1921), and more extensively at his ministry as Guardian of the Baha'i Faith (1921-57). We will consider the many roles Shoghi Effendi filled (builder, interpreter, author, and translator) as he carried out his duties as Guardian in fostering the growth and development of the Baha'i Faith. He devoted much of his ministry to building the administrative order outlined by Baha'u'llah and elaborated by 'Abdu'l-Baha in His Will and Testament and to using it as an instrument for fostering the international spread of the Baha'i Faith called for by 'Abdu'l-Baha in the Tablets of the Divine Plan. Shoghi Effendi also worked tirelessly to extend and beautify the properties of the Baha'i World Center in Haifa and Acre, to erect the facade of the Shrine of the Bab, and to prepare a physical home for the center of the administrative order. Shoghi Effendi translated many writings of Baha'u'llah into English, translated and edited a history of the Babi period of the Faith, penned thousands of letters clarifying basic Baha'i teachings, and wrote the classic history of the first hundred years of the Faith's beginnings. His devotion, self-sacrifice, and suffering are an inspiration to Baha'is of all generations.

Duration of course: Six weeks (December 15, 2017 - January 25, 2018)

The Promise of World Peace was a ground-breaking document when the Universal House of Justice issued it in 1985. Its discussions of issues necessary for achieving peace (religion; subordinating national self-interest to the requirements of world order; eliminating racism, disparities between rich and poor, and nationalism; emancipating women; abolishing war; accepting the oneness of humankind) remain as relevant today, perhaps even more so. This course will take us through the text in depth and
