Learners in Action

Effendi filled (builder, interpreter, author, and translator) as he carried out his duties as Guardian in fostering the growth and development of the Baha'i Faith. He devoted much of his ministry to building the administrative order outlined by Baha'u'llah and elaborated by 'Abdu'l-Baha in His Will and Testament and to using it as an instrument for fostering the international spread of the Baha'i Faith called for by 'Abdu'l-Baha in the Tablets of the Divine Plan.

Shoghi Effendi also worked tirelessly to extend and beautify the properties of the Baha'i World Center in Haifa and Acre, to erect the facade of the Shrine of the Bab, and to prepare a physical home for the center of the administrative order. Shoghi Effendi translated many writings of Baha'u'llah into English, translated and edited a history of the Babi period of the Faith, penned thousands of letters clarifying basic Baha'i teachings, and wrote the classic history of the first hundred years of the Faith's beginnings. His devotion, self-sacrifice, and suffering are an inspiration to Baha'is of all generations.

Faculty: Daniel Gebhardt, Daniel Pschaida

Duration of course: Seven weeks (February 12 - April 1, 2016)

Sufism is the mystical dimension of Islam concerned with describing the nature of and developing a deep personal relationship with God. Sufis created a vast literature in poetic and essay form about the human relationship with God, developed important ideas and terms to describe it, and wrote ecstatically about the experience itself. In the process they discovered important insights into the meaning of many Qur'anic passages. The language they developed provided the Bab and Baha'u'llah with a powerful vocabulary and a set of metaphors to express their revelations. In Introduction to Sufism we will study the origins and development of the Sufi tradition and its foundational role for understanding many Baha'i texts.

democracy is the subject of numerous books and articles. Baha'is have something to contribute to this discussion, for the Baha'i electoral process, its consultative approach to decision-making, and its current efforts in developing human resources and building communities constitute a living model of democratic life. Climate Change

One in a series of courses on Baha'i teachings on aspects of global civilization

Lead Faculty: Christine Muller

Faculty: Gary Colliver, Arthur Lyon Dahl, Carole Flood

Duration of course: Eight weeks (March 1 - April 16, 2016)

In the Climate Change course we will explore the basic science of climate change and provide an understanding of how climate disruption impacts us today and will continue to affect us in the future. We will explore ethical questions related to climate change and address them in the context of the spiritual teachings of the world's religions, especially those of the Baha'i Faith. Some readings will help us make enlightened decisions for our personal and community lives that are consistent with our spiritual and ethical values. Finally, we will learn to participate in public discourse by being empowered to present, from a Baha'i and interfaith perspective, spiritual responses to the climate crisis. For those interested in a more thorough study of climate change and its spiritual dimensions or who are interested in specific aspects of it, the course offers numerous optional resources. This course does not provide a forum for debate about whether climate change is real because there is overwhelming scientific evidence of human-caused global warming.

Duration of course: Seven weeks (March 7, 2016 - April 24, 2016)

Health Care and Social Action, presented by Health for Humanity and the Wilmette Institute, will examine existing models of health and wellness and explore concepts in the Baha'i writings that might contribute to these models. Beginning with a review of definitions of health and wellness by the World Health Organization and others, we will explore selected readings, attempting to identify goals for which we can strive when seeking health for individuals and society. Then we will examine research and readings on happiness and its interface with health and wellness. Finally, we will conclude with the hypothesis that the Baha'i teachings speak uniquely to health, wellness, and happiness and that an organized approach to discourse and action is timely and necessary within the Five Year Plan and beyond. This course is ideal for students, health-care professionals, and others seeking an opportunity for

The Badi` \(Baha'i\) Calendar: Reshaping Our Material, Social, and Spiritual Reality

Another course in the series on Baha'i teachings on community and administration

Lead Faculty: Nicola Daniels

Faculty: Mark Lutness

Duration of course: One month (March 10 - April 10, 2016)

The Baha'i Faith has a unique calendar of 19 months of 19 days each, plus 4 or 5 days of Ayyam-i-Ha to bring the length of the year up to a full solar cycle. Through this calendar, "sacred moments are distinguished, humanity's place in time and space are reimagined, and the rhythm of life recast." The Universal House of Justice, in a letter dated July 10, 2014, called "upon the Baha'is of the East and West to adopt . . . the provisions that will unite them in the common implementation of the Badi` calendar." The House of Justice has also fixed the start of the year on the first day of spring as it occurs in Tehran. In The Badi` (Baha'i) Calendar we will consider the purpose and nature of calendars in general, the organization of the Baha'i calendar (created by the Bab and called the Badi` calendar), the spiritual significance of the names of "the periods and cycles, months and days" in the calendar, and the purpose and timing of Baha'i holy days. We will also compare the Baha'i calendar to the Jewish, Christian, and Islamic calendars.

The Baha'i Faith and the Arts

Another in a series of courses on Baha'i teachings on the arts

Lead Faculty: Anne Perry

Faculty: Peggy Caton, Sandra Lynn Hutchison, Marjan Nirou Saniee

Duration of course: Seven weeks (March 15 - May 3, 2016)

In The Baha'i Faith and the Arts we will explore the purpose of the arts from a Baha'i perspective. Among other topics, we will discuss how art and religion have harmonized and conflicted in the past; how the Baha'i dispensation will be similar to and different from the past; the artist as a person with an important gift to share with the world; and how the Baha'i writings encourage artists.

We will also consider how to reframe imagination, creativity, and risk-taking within a Baha'i context; how to prioritize the positive aspect of creativity to enhance our lives, our communities, the Baha'i Faith, and the future; and how to develop a serviceable language about the arts that enables us to integrate the arts more fully into Feasts, Holy Days, core activities, commemorations, and so on and to include more people in art making and appreciation of the arts.

Economics and the Baha'i Faith

Yet another in a series of courses on Baha'i teachings on aspects of global civilization

Lead Faculty: Mary Fish

Faculty: Hooshmand Badee, James West

Duration of course: Seven weeks (March 22 - June 2, 2016)

In Economics and the Baha'i Faith we will examine the guiding principles in the Baha'i authoritative texts that relate to economics and the betterment of society. The Baha'i Faith does not provide an economic system, but its spiritual and ethical values have much to say about the material aspects of life and the organization of society. We will review the world's economic conditions in light of recent letters from Baha'i institutions and assessments by Baha'i and other experts and consider the implications of the moral and spiritual teachings of the Faith on Baha'i communities and wider society. Topics covered in the course will include Baha'i perspectives on wealth creation and distribution, economic justice, spiritual solutions to economic problems, the elimination of poverty, the market economy, the work ethic, globalization, and advancement toward the prosperity of humankind.

Understanding Religion: Conceptual and Experiential Aspects

A course in a series on religion, philosophy, and theology

Lead Faculty: Moojan Momen

Faculty: Susan Maneck, Peter Smith

Duration of course: Seven weeks (April 1 - May 19, 2016)

Understanding Religion attempts to distill some of the knowledge about religion that has accumulated through the study of religion during the past two hundred years. We will look at the definitions of religion that have been offered; probe the various attempts to describe the religious experience; examine the pathway to salvation or liberation that different religious groups have offered; seek to gain some understanding of such concepts as faith, belief, and the phenomenon of conversion as well as subjects such as suffering, sacrifice, and salvation; strive to gain an overview of the metaphysical explanations of reality offered in diverse religions; and examine the promise of a future savior that is common to many religions. Finally, we will explore the topics of archetype, myth, and the sacred that lie behind much of religious and nonreligious thinking. The text for the course is Moojan Momen's Understanding Religion (used copies of the book are available on the Internet under the title The Phenomenon of Religion). In November a companion course will focus on the historical and social aspects of religion.

Creating a Coherent Marriage, Family, and Community Life

A new course in the series on individual, marriage, and family development

Lead Faculty: Alex Blakeson

Faculty: Hoda Kemp

Duration of course: Four weeks (April 4 - April 30, 2016)

In Creating a Coherent Marriage, Family, and Community Life we will work on harmonizing key facets of life, such as marriage, family, work, service, and individual growth, to empower couples and families to contribute to flourishing communities. We will seek ways to expand our capacity to contribute joyfully to the well-being of our neighborhoods and society. This special collaborative program between Green Acre Baha'i School and the Wilmette Institute begins with a weekend for couples and single parents at Green Acre on April 1-3. Following the Green Acre weekend study, we will continue with the same facilitators in online learning components through the Wilmette Institute from April 4-30. This format will help us apply the learning and conversations to daily life. One family registration covers all expenses for both schools. A children's program will be provided at the Green Acre Baha'i School. There will be only one registration, through Green Acre's registration system.

Christianity for Deepening and Dialogue

A course in a series on an integrated approach to world religions

Lead Faculty: Ted Brownstein

Duration of course: Seven weeks (April 7 - May 25, 2016)

In Christianity for Deepening and Dialogue we will explore major themes that form part of Christian belief and compare them with the Baha'i Faith: conceptions of God and the trinity; Christian rites, the Eucharist, and baptism; the kingdom of God; faith in miracles; the Crucifixion; and the Resurrection. We will begin with an introduction to the Bible and its organization and will also cover politics and religion. Using Baha'i, Islamic, and academic perspectives, we will examine the themes in the Gospels' original context and then explore them in their modern forms. We will be studying Christianity for the purposes of deepening and dialogue--that is, for understanding the basics of Christianity as a divinely revealed religion and for learning how to share the Baha'i perspective with a variety of Christians in an informed and respectful manner.

Study Baha'u'llah's laws destined to last for one thousand years

Kitab-i-Aqdas

One in a series of courses exploring the revelation of Baha'u'llah

Lead Faculty: Christopher Buck

Faculty: Necati Alkan

Duration of course: Seven weeks (April 22 - June 7, 2016)

About the Kitab-i-Aqdas, Shoghi Effendi has written that it "may well be regarded as the brightest emanation of the mind of Baha'u'llah, as the Mother Book of His Dispensation, and the Charter of His New World Order." He further refers to the Kitab-i-Aqdas as "the principal repository of that Law which the Prophet Isaiah had anticipated, and which the writer of the Apocalypse had described as the 'new heaven' and the 'new earth,' as 'the Tabernacle of God,' as the 'Holy City,' as the 'Bride,' the 'New Jerusalem coming down from God,' this 'Most Holy Book,' whose provisions must remain inviolate for no less than a thousand years, and whose system will embrace the entire planet. . . ." We will read the Kitab-i-Aqdas and supplemental texts related to it, while studying several of its main themes: covenant, succession, and manifestation;

Baha'i institutions, including the rulers and the learned, the Universal House of Justice, Houses of Worship, Feasts, Holy Days, and the Baha'i calendar; the nature and purpose of Baha'u'llah's laws; Baha'u'llah's ordinances; prohibitions and punishments; Baha'u'llah's proclamations to kings, rulers, places, and groups of people; education and transformation; and teaching the Baha'i Faith.
