

U.S. SUPPLEMENT TO THE BAHÁ'Í NEWS AND THE NATIONAL BAHÁ'Í REVIEW

The work here represents a review of most but not all of the U.S. Supplements to the Bahá'í News from February 1958:-April 1982. If there were no articles or items pertaining to American Indians, South American Indians, Canadian Indians, or Eskimos, then I marked that issue with a 'checked'. Some of the issues come with anomalies of their own with regards to numbering etc. The Supplement was not regular when it became the National Bahá'í Review. And it seemed that the purpose of the Review was going in the direction of presenting primarily administrative items while leaving the stories of the teaching work for the American Bahá'í Newspaper which began in 1970.

Recommendations and Actions

1. Recommendation: That in teaching minorities believers to these backgrounds be used more extensively as they have a lot of knowledge about their own groups which should be gathered for effective teachings. Action: The National Spiritual Assembly approves this recommendation. p. 2.
2. Recommendation: That Indian teaching be given some priority in the Five year Plan the same as teaching in the “Deep south” was in the Nine Year Plan. Action: This is being done. An Indian Teaching Committee under the National Teaching Committee has been appointed to give special attention to this goal of the Five Year Plan. p. 3.
3. Recommendation: That the National Spiritual Assembly appoint an Indian-American Committee and give it large scale enrollment of the American Indian community; that it function in one of the three states that were visited by ‘Abdu’l-Bahá, and that emphasis be placed on the establishment of twenty-five Assemblies on Indian reservation. Action: This is being done under the mandate given the National Teaching Committee. p. 3.
