Three August Online Courses with Their Roots in Unity: Watch the Video

Spend a little over a minute finding out in

Duration of course: Seven weeks (August 15 - October 3, 2018)

As humanity passes through stages of collective growth and moves apace toward integration and unity, it finds itself caught in the thick of many painful and seemingly intractable challenges that mark a turbulent adolescence--crises such as climate change, financial upheavals, proliferation of nuclear weapons, gross human-rights atrocities, and mismanagement of critical natural resources. In Building a World Federation: The Key to Resolving Our Global Crises, we will examine how we can solve these and similar problems using 'Abdu'l-Baha's advice offered a century ago about establishing collective decision-making and implementing institutions that can and should evolve into a world federation of nation-states. We will also explore the lessons we can usefully glean from the American experience of establishing a federation as well as from Europe's ongoing experiment as it moves toward deeper integration. Finally, we will learn how to respond effectively to skeptics who argue that creating a global federation is a pipe-dream because nations will never be willing to cede sovereignty, and we will equip ourselves with ways to allay fears that such a move will lead to an abusive world government that is so excessively centralized that it will not heed the voices of diverse populations and minorities and will trample upon their rights.

The Destiny of America

Another course in the Department of Social Transformation

Lead Faculty: Christopher Buck

Duration of course: Seven weeks (August 25 - October 13, 2018)

Discussing the destiny of America is an excellent way to engage in spiritual conversations and in the public discourses of society (while avoiding partisan politics). To equip learners for such conversations, we will study passages from Baha'i sacred and authoritative texts on America's spiritual potential and destiny and its ideal world role. We will also study statements on America by the Bab, Baha'u'llah, 'Abdu'l-Baha (including a newly authorized translation of "A Prayer for the confirmation of the American Government"), Shoghi Effendi, and the Universal House of Justice. In addition, we will examine selected chapters from God & Apple Pie: Religious Myths and Visions of America to obtain a broader outlook on the destiny of America from the perspectives of other religions, thus adding a comparative dimension to this course.

Are you troubled by the poverty and suffering of people at home and abroad, concerned about the future of your children, and worried about the destruction of the environment on which their lives depend? These are the challenges of sustainable development, requiring a fundamental transformation in the economic, social, and environmental actions of our lives and society. In Sustainable Development and the Prosperity of Humankind we will explore the profound implications of the Baha'i teachings for sustainability and the scientific and spiritual principles that can ensure the future prosperity of humankind. We will explore how carrying "forward an ever-advancing civilization" is conditioned on respecting the human rights of all people as well as planetary limits. We will learn to see the Baha'i core activities in a new light and to infuse them with deeper meaning.

stage of the development of the Faith. In subsequent units we will examine the fundamental concept of unity and its implications for creating community, reforming the world, and reconceptualizing such subjects as leadership, politics, and conflict; the nature of God, revelation, Manifestation, humanity, creation, religion, and the Baha'i Faith's relationship to other faiths; the nature and spiritual development of human beings and the role of marriage and family life; and the Baha'i approach to reorganizing the social life and civilization of the human species. In the historical section of the course we will examine the development of the Baha'i community from the time of the Bab (1844) to the present, considering the development of new Baha'i institutions and the Faith's focus on several important priorities: diversity, geographical spread, and empowerment of the membership. The course is suitable for inquirers wishing a basic overview, new Baha'is desiring a chance to explore the religion they have accepted, and veteran Baha'is wishing to refresh and deepen their understanding.

A course in the Department of Marriage and Family

Lead Faculty: Susanne Alexander
Faculty: Wendi Momen, Riaz Mostaghim

Duration of course: Four weeks (September 17 - October 8, 2018)

"Family consultation employing full and frank discussion, and animated by awareness of the need for moderation and balance, can be the panacea for domestic conflict," according to a letter written on behalf of the Universal House of Justice. In Consulting as a Couple, we will discuss how to strengthen your relationship or married-couple consultation skills; provide a forum for reflecting on the current quality of your interactions and what you want to improve; and discuss how to build understanding, solve difficulties, and reach effective decisions that you can carry out with confidence. We will also identify spiritual principles and qualities for communication and consultation, including equality, justice, wisdom, tact, and timeliness; foster an understanding of consultation; address challenges; and learn to consult well. The course is designed for couples or individuals having a partner not enrolled in the course with whom they can work. However, it is open to everyone.

commentary. In Writing about the Writings: The Art and Craft of the Personal Reflection Piece, however, we will engage in a different kind of exegesis with the goal of writing a more informal and accessible kind of commentary that does not require scholarly background--the personal reflection piece. The assumption behind the course is that all readers have a share in the multiplicity of meanings, which, according to 'Abdu'l-Baha, are embedded within scripture. The purpose of the course is to empower readers of Baha'i scripture to share their insights into the Baha'i writings in the context of the personal reflection piece, a form of commentary that does not employ the conventional apparatus of scholarship, such as research, critical analysis, and familiarity with other commentary on the same texts but, rather, simply embodies the individual reader's thoughtful response to a given passage, tablet, or longer work by the Baha'u'llah, the Bab, or 'Abdu'l-Baha. You will learn the art and craft of writing such a personal reflection piece by receiving instruction from faculty as well as feedback from fellow students.
